IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT YOUR DRINKING WATER

Monitoring Requirements Not Met for Cornish Town's Drinking Water System

Our water system violated several drinking water standards over the past year. Even though these were not emergencies, as our customers, you have a right to know what happened and what we did to correct these situations.

We are required to monitor your drinking water for specific contaminants on a regular basis. Results of regular monitoring are an indicator of whether or not our drinking water meets health standards. During July 2021, we did not collect a water sample and have a ROUTINE bacteriological analysis run, and therefore, cannot be sure of the quality of our drinking water during that time.

What should I do?

There is nothing you need to do at this time.

That table below lists the contaminant we did not properly test for during the last year, how often we are supposed to sample for this contaminant, how many samples we are supposed to take, how many samples we took when samples should have been taken, and the date on which follow-up samples were taken.

Contaminant	Required sampling frequency	Number of samples taken	When all samples should have been taken	When Samples were or will be taken
Total Coliform	1 sample every month	0	July 2021	August 17, 2021

What happened? What is being done?

Due to the fact that the town was in the process of changing personnel in the water department, a water sample was inadvertently missed in July 2021. An appropriate test sample was collected on August 17, 2021, a bacteriological analysis was done, and the results were sent to the Utah State Division of Drinking Water at this time.

For more information, please contact Matt Leak, Mayor at 435-757-6726.

Please share this information with all the other people who drink this water, especially those who may not have received this notice directly (for example, people in apartments, nursing homes, schools, and businesses). You can do this by posting this notice in a public place or distributing copies by hand or mail.
